This is the final screening in Carless's series of Keaton live-scores, which has also featured The General, Sherlock, Jr. and Steamboat Bill, Jr. Our Hospitality is a Buster Keaton film from 1923 that was billed as having 'Four Keatons',	September 19, 7pm	Children and Adults	Free	tinyurl.com/y2pvezjq

as the film contains Buster, his father Joe, his 1 year old son – Buster Jr, and his then-wife Natalie Talmadge. Shot in Oregon and California (using some locations that would be revisited in The General three years later), the plot follows a family feud and was deemed to be Keaton’s first masterpiece.

Arts Therapy Institute of NC	Workshop Series: Soul Collage©	Soul Collage© is an intuitive and creative collage making process. Using simple materials, Soul Collagers create a personalized deck of cards with each card representing a part of their personality or soul. No art experience is needed to make Soul Collage© cards...all that is needed are supplies and a willingness to be open and learn about yourself.	Wednesdays , Sept 9 to Oct 7, 7-9pm	Adults	$115	tinyurl.com/yxfkamdX
BASEMENT	Digital Artist Residency	As a response to the current pandemic, we are launching a series of invitational digital residencies for emerging artists who are based in the U.S. southeast or have roots in this region. These dynamic artists will share their work over a series of weeks on our Instagram feed. Aaron Turner is a photographer, artist, and curator based in Fayetteville, Arkansas. Cat's Cradle	Honey Magpie (Full Band) Album Release Show, a CC Webcast	Known for vocal harmonies, classical string instruments, and nature-inspired lyrics, Honey Magpie is fronted by Millennial singer-songwriters Rachael Hurwitz (guitar, keys) and Pippa Hoover (cello). Their sound invites comparisons to all-female folk groups like I'm With Her, but draws more influence from pop than bluegrass or old time.	September 18, 8pm	Adults	Free	tinyurl.com/y2k6nw4p
Cat's Cradle	Shame with Fin The D.J. and Featuring Kourvioisier	Shame will be premiering his new video for the single "Enough" and will perform his album, Genesis 98, in its entirety.  An embattled scrapper, Raleigh rapper Shame is no stranger to quarrels with other local rappers and challenges in his personal life, but he's never tried to pose as the brooding tough guy. After a two-year stream of respectable mixtapes, singles, and EPs, he's finally got a full-length record: Genesis 98, inspired by the summer of 1998.	September 19, 8pm	Adults	Free	tinyurl.com/yy9broam
Cat's Cradle	Frontside and Galloway: A Live Webcast from the Cat's Cradle	Frontside started out as 3 musicians taking it upon themselves to put a twist on the pop-punk scene. Their music weaves nods to genre forebears together with progressive sensibilities, yet manages to maintain traditional song structures. The end result is a new breed of pop-punk that is both ludicrously catchy and technically impressive. Based out of Boone, North Carolina, Galloway Music is a Indie Pop-Rock band putting out nothing but chill vibes. Filled out by Lawson Galloway (vocals), Luca Amedeo (guitar), Robert Redfield (guitar), Kevin Woicyk (drums), and Nick Williams (bass). Carolina Performing Arts	The Spark with Tift Merritt: Abigail Washburn	In this live interview series, Grammy-nominated singer/songwriter and UNC alumna Tift Merritt returns to Carolina Performing Arts to take us behind the scenes in artist-to-artist video interviews that delve deep into the creative process.	September 24, 7:30	Adults	Free	tinyurl.com/y6etnnoh

A Grammy award-winning singer/songwriter, clawhammer banjo player, and Carolina Performing Arts/Andrew W. Mellon Foundation DisTIL Fellow, Washburn is known for pairing folk elements with far-flung sounds for results that feel both strangely familiar and unlike anything heard before. One of a few foreign artists who has toured China independently and regularly, she hopes that cultural understanding and the communal experience of beauty and sound rooted in tradition will lead the way to a richer existence.

Virtual book launch for Tyree Daye's new collection of poems, Cardinal—with special guest Nabila Lovelace

Join us in a virtual book launch for Tyree Daye's second collection Cardinal, from Copper Canyon Press, featuring the poet Nabila Lovelace. With the language of elegy and praise, intoning regional dialect, and a deliberately disruptive cadence, Daye carries the voices of ancestors and blues poets, while stretching the established zones of the black American vernacular. In tones at once laden and magically transforming, he self-consciously plots his own Great Migration: "if you see me dancing a two step/I'm sending a starless code/we're escaping everywhere." These are poems to be read aloud.

Higher Ground
Conversations

In our largest producing effort since the the pandemic forced the shutting down of theatres in North Carolina and across the nation, PlayMakers is proud to join with Theatre Raleigh in sponsoring Mike Wiley's new series. In the face of the racial reckoning that has so recently risen to the center of our nation's conscience, Mike did not want to completely forgo his regular plans to lead a (literal) journey to Alabama, exploring the events of the Civil Rights Era and beyond. In a great explosion of creativity, he took the the opportunity to offer the "journey" to as broad an audience as possible, instead.

UNC Chapel Hill	Music Department: Do the Work Wednesdays	A weekly discussion of ways that we can all actively be anti-racist in our musical studies and performance and to learn more about the musical artists whose voices have gone underrepresented for far too long. The resources and artist features will alternate Wednesdays, but we believe that there will often be overlap between the two. The best anti-racism efforts come not just with readings and performances, but with engagement and action. We encourage you to discuss this series with your friends, in the classroom, and to hold us accountable. We believe anti-racism must be a community effort led by individual action.
